OUR WARREN WORLD

Our Warren World is relived as we leaf through the pages of the 1956 WIGWAM. Each event will be vividly remembered; some are happy occasions and others sad, but they all made up Our Warren World.

Each of us had a part in making this school year one to be remembered. Seniors look forward to the future with realization of the fond memories left behind. Their Warren World has completed its orbit, but the underclassmen anticipate the years to come.

When we close our 1956 annual we will complete another revolution of Our Warren World never to be forgotten by Warrenites. Let's reminisce as we look through the year and remember those enjoyed and dreamed, worthwhile and seemingly worthless, industrious and lethargic, animated and weary days spent in Our Warren World.

OUR LIBRARY . . . . . CENTER

Warren's library has made many new friends this year. Convocations, Quiz 'Em on the Air contests and plays helped many of our friends meet the library as well as the usual supply of reference, fiction and periodic material. Seniors are shown taking the state scholarship tests which were administered there. These and other such occasions brought many guests to our library.

OF OUR WARREN WORLD

Parent-Teachers Association members frequently use our library for their meetings and programs. Pictured is a group of representatives from industries who formed a panel for the Industrial Visitation and Counsel P. T. A. meeting. Our library was used for many other occasions and played a big part in Our Warren World.

Frilly formals, delightful music and delicious refreshments highlight our dances. These students symbolize the affairs which every girl dreams about and most boys dread.

OUR WARREN WORLD HAS FOUR

"Let's go, Warriors, go!" Since all of us aren't basketball stars or football heroes, we sit in the bleachers and back our team. The pep block was formed this year for the first time, and was a big boost to the players. Athletics are an important element in Our Warren World.

PHASES

Schools just have to have classrooms. Most students began to realize this amazing fact about 7:35 September 6, the first day of school. Teachers were there also, to guide us through such courses as geometry, chemistry, physics, English and many, many more.

. . . and then there's the study hall. The hours spent here aren't usually fondly remembered, but most students will have to admit that they proved worthwhile. The library was a good place to catch up on that lost sleep, to write letters to a friend, to read magazines and, of course, to study.

Entertaining us at many school functions this year were "The Four Notes." B. Miller, B. Welling, J. Bruhn, and A. Cole blended their voices to such songs as "Sh-Boom" and "Mood Indigo." All the members of this vocal quartet are quite active in choir and other musical groups.

Rehearsing for a panel discussion of the Beta Creed at the Indiana Beta Convention in November were S. Binnion, D. Scotten, Miss Merrill, J. Ross, and D. Myers. In the past Indiana Betas have had a joint convention with Kentucky, but this year theirs was separate. The forum discussion explained the new Beta Creed.

After concluding the last play, the joint casts of "Sunday Costs Five Pesos," "Antic Spring," and "Laughing Ghost," present their director, Miss Wagner, with a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Instead of giving the usual three-act play, the members of the Dramatics Club decided to have three one-act plays.

THROUGH SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

Money! Money! Money! Boys, don't fight over that money! Leland Dilk and Phil Biddle were two of the boys who collected money for The March of Dimes and The Santa Claus Fund. The Hi-Y Clubs sponsored these charity projects at Warren.

Keeping informed on styles of the day was the pleasant task of Fashion Board members, Joanne Sykes, and Janice Marshall. They were Warren's representatives to teen-age fashion boards at L. S. Ayres and Company and the Wm. H. Block Company respectively.

Winner of the 1955 Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen award was Sharon Binnion. Sharon was chosen by senior classmates and a faculty committee on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Chosen as school diary keeper this year, was Gyneth Sprunger. It is her duty to record any important happenings of the school day and scores of athletic events.

Chosen by their classmates to attend the Mock Legislative Assembly at Purdue University last fall were A. Litz, senator, and representatives D. Martin, L. Grabhorn and P. Vincent. The aim of the assembly is to teach the organization and methods of good government to high school students.

STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR TRIPS AND DUTIES

Allan Litz, United Nations delagate, points out a controversial spot on the globe to Sharon Binnion, alternate. Allen toured the United Nations with 15 other high school students from Indiana. Allan was selected by the senior government classes to represent Warren Central on the P. T. A.—sponsored trip.

A gathering place for most of the underclassmen is the public telephone in the upper hall. This is used extensively after basketball and football games. Pictured at the phone booth are Linda Fye, Mathew Aleksa, and Roger Bultman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Eash, familiar faces about Warren, enjoyed dinner at the annual faculty Christmas Party. Mrs. Eash is in charge of the school bookstore. Mr. Eash is Supervising Principal of Warren Township schools.

BUSY DAYS LEAVE

Candidates for king and queen of the Christmas Dance, "Mistletoe Magic," anxiously await the crowning while Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus secure the crowns from under the Christmas tree. Nominees included P. Biddle, M. Limbach,T . Wetherald, A. Hughes, P. Proctor, J. Strodtman, L. Minnick, A. Cole, M. Stroud, J. Marshall, and A. Litz. Judy Strodtman and and Phil Biddle were crowned by Mr. and Mrs. Claus, Donna Myers, and Larry Grabhorn.

Art students at Warren find their talents are needed for many school activities. They decorate for the dances, make banners and name cards for ball games and build stage scenery. This busy group is preparing a banner for a coming event.

Gathered around the jukebox at one of the sock hops is a group of Warrenites who seem to be enjoying the latest tunes. The affairs, after home games, were sponsored by the Student Council and attended by many of the students.

MANY HAPPY MEMORIES

After the last bell rings Our Warren World suddenly becomes quiet. Students and faculty abandon the building leaving it to the custodians who prepare it for the next day.

HONOR GROUPS SET HIGH GOALS

The Junior Honor Society, which is composed of freshman and sophomore students, have established goals that they hope to accomplish throughout each school year. HOBBIES AND ABILITIES DEMONSTRATED BY WARRENITES

A stringbook holds all of the printed material a journalist writes. The copy is measured and the number of inches recorded in the "string." GROUPS REQUIRE SKILL

Pushing and pulling wayward automobiles is only a small fraction of the services that are rendered by the Driver's Club. The club tries to promote the traffic safety of student drivers and passengers. The Warren Central Jury was the very first of its kind to be organized within the state. This jury does not only pertain to driving, but to anything around school to stress orderliness. Exercising their muscles by pushing a car that just won't seem to budge are: R. Crumbo, Treasurer; A. Litz, Assistant Judge; L. Dilk, Vice-President; J. Sykes, A. Heckart and D. Oertel, Jury Members; A. Burt, President; C. Marshall, Secretary; J. Throughout the school year, the band and orchestra play a vital part in our activities. The band provides music for ball games, parades, pep sessions, and convocations, while the orchestra plays for more formal affairs such as the annual mother and daughter tea, receptions, and graduation. Joint concerts are given and both enter solo and ensemble contests in the winter. It isn't all work and no play for these groups, though, parties and good times are enjoyed by all. Many lasting friendships are formed through the close association in band and orchestra. The end of the school year finds our musicians happy that the busy times are over for a while.

EDITORS, REPORTERS, TYPISTS

Instead of the staff's typing its own copy as most previous OWL staffs have done, four girls interested in the paper but not on the staff, did this work. They were L. Davis, B. Procter, J. Strough and M. Pendleton.

Corresponding to the city newspapers, Indianapolis Star, Indianapolis News, and the Indianapolis Times; and county publications was the job of the News Bureau staff. School news was written by Doris Dicks, Phyllis Peck, and Carol Creech.

COMPOSE 'OWL' STAFF

Every Monday the weekly school paper is taken to all classrooms. Many of the hard working people who are silent about their accomplishments are never credited for the pleasure they bring to students. The business staff of The OWL is composed of: R. Tidd, Page 2 Editor; D. Martin, Sports Editor; S. Schaffer, Page 3 Editor; J. Albus, Editor-in-Chief; S. Binnion, Business Manager, and M. Chappell, Page 1 Editor.

Numerous odd jobs are related to the publishing of a paper. This year's staff positions were filled by P. Haslet, Librarian; K. Ernst, Exchange Editor; G. Sprunger, Feature Writer, and P. Clevenger, W. Terry, D. Robertson, Reporters. D. Terry, Advertising Manager is not pictured.

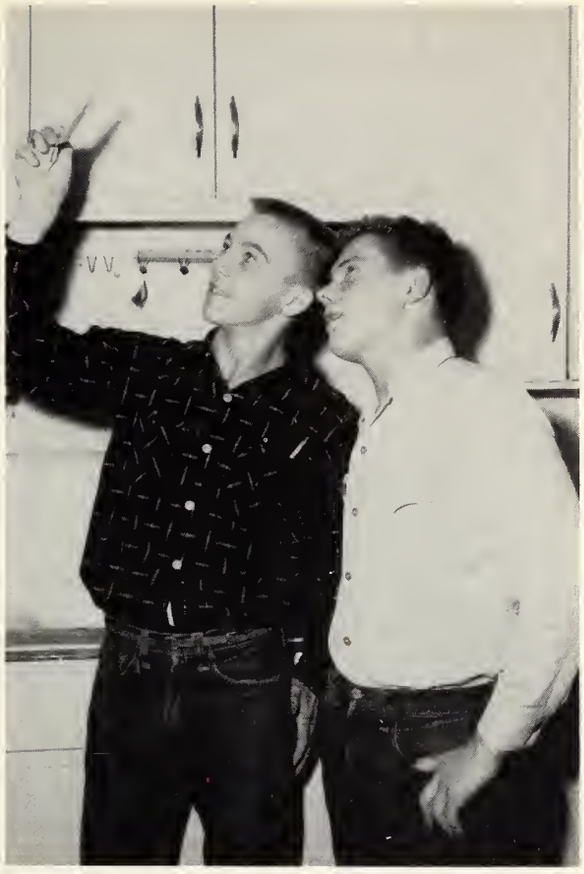
SENIOR JOURNALISTS

Work and more work were the main jobs of Donna Jo Scotten, ad manager; Sharon Binnion, business manager; and Luclare Stuart, subscription manager. These girls were the WIGWAM'S business staff. Handling ads, counting money and signing receipts were only three of the many jobs these girls did.

Public relations is the most effective way to bring the activities and objectives of any institution into community focus. Through an active journalism department, parents and patrons learn to know a school. Newspaper, news bureau and yearbook all have their individual roles in the portrayal of the ever-shifting scene of Our bustling Warren World.



Publications photographers, Kenny Tobias and Larry Griffy, inspect a negative in the school's dark room. These boys snapped the pictures that were printed in the Owl and many for the Wigwam.

RUSH TO MEET DEADLINE

Jacks-of-all trades describes the duties of the Wigwam staff assistants. This group does the odd jobs which are important and numerous in the production of a yearbook. Pictured are: C. Castleman, D. Oertel, A. Heckart, J. Hinchman, L. Hoff, P. Totten, N. Stevens, A. Burt, P. Vincent, and S. Fox.

Sportsmanship, displayed in winning and losing, is a very important part of life in Our Warren World. Good attitudes and teamwork are developed in all athletic participation, and from the experiences of these activities come many fond memories. Remember the time the clock failed as we were about to score a winning touchdown . . . or the ball was thrown out of bounds with just a few seconds remaining in the game . . . the times there was joy in Our Warren World when we won . . . the sorrow when we lost? These events remain vividly in our minds as they are now relived in our world of . . .

Football fans run a close second to coaches when it comes to cheering their boys to victory. The eyes of experience appraising the play are Mr. William Reed, Assistant Coach; Mr. Vaughn Wood, Varsity Coach; and Mr. William Lowes, Assistant Coach.

"County for Bear" was the cry in the dressing room. Alan Arnold had died in August, 1955. We missed him this year, but we'll always remember our pal, "Big Bear."

INTRODUCES ACTION

Ex-Warrior Danny Bray moves into the play to tackle George Porter. One of Danny's Lawrence Central teammates also makes a futile attempt. Coming up quickly are Doug Polly, John Prickett and Tom Clay.

Dan Bray is on the trail of Warrior, Doug Polly as he carries the ball downfield. Leland Dilk (30) charges in as Fred Horsley (15) comes along side.

Managers are an asset to coaches and members. Looking after equipment for the 1955 football season are Gary Falkner, Don Prickett, Ronnie Adams, Lowry Sutherland, Larry Minnick and Bob Wood.

Excitement and tension can be detected in these boys as they watch their team in action. A vital part of Warren's squad, these boys are always ready and waiting to hear the call "warm up."

Leland Dilk (30) and Fred Horsley (15) attempt to help Doug Polly (12) bring down a Lawrence Bear in the Warren - Lawrence Homecoming game. Central's Bears took a 32-26 victory over the Warriors.

Larry Minnick, senior, places the crown of golden chrysanthemums on the head of the 1955 Homecoming Queen, Marilyn Limbach. Halftime festivities included crowning the queen, performing by Warren's band, and the introducing of lettermen.

In an early season tilt, Leland Dilk (30) pounces on a Southport gridder as Jim Barnes (25) hangs on. The interested onlooker is Phil Procter (19).

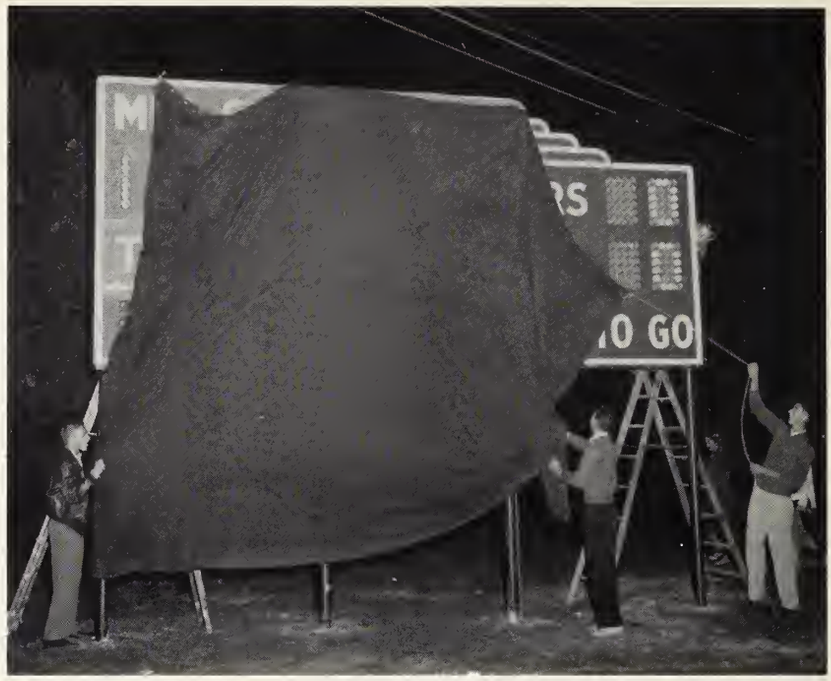
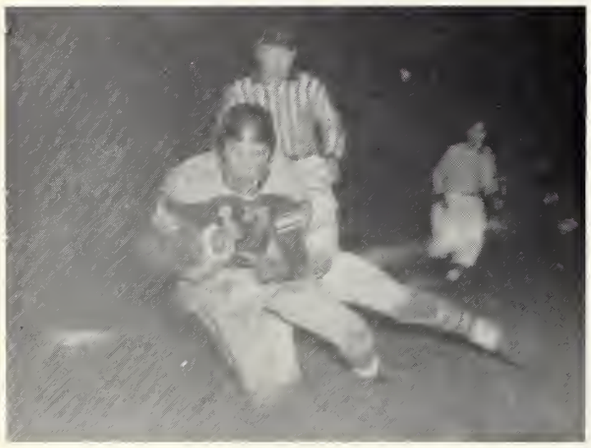
One of the biggest events of football season was the unveiling of the new electric scoreboard at Homecoming. Danny Simmerman peers out as Dave Martin, Dick Meyer and Larry West display our most expensive piece of athletic equipment.





WARREN GRIDMEN

Bill Darosett (11) junior halfback, is brought down by a Howe gridder in the Howe-Warren tilt on October 26th. Howe was the victor'in a 13-6 battle.

Wanna dance? Tom Clay (29) shyly asks a Lawrence player for the pleasure of the next minuet but receives no encouragement. George Porter (11) and Phil Procter (19) want to get in on the act, too.

Don Pierce (31) and Larry West (24) look amazed as their teammate Ronnie Mitchell (33) goes up for a shot in the Southport tilt which ended in a 58-61 decision in the Cardinal's favor.

Senior guard, Don Pierce (31) is surrounded by foe as he attempts a shot in the Greenfield encounter on Warren's court. Larry West (24) Ronnie Mitchell (33) and Chuck Marshall (34) look on with interest.

Jim Hickman (35) senior, turns his back on the situation as Don Pierce (31) leaps for a shot in the Warren-Decatur fray. Fred Horsley (25) and Dick Meyer (43) seem to have their eyes on the ball as Warren wins 71-49.

Decatur players encircle guard, Don Pierce (31) as he leaps to receive a pass from a teammate. Ronnie Mitchell (33) hides coyly behind Decatur's Merrill Shelly (24).

Trent Anderson (42) turns acrobat in the Manual-Warren game played on the opponent's home court. Chuck Marshall (34) peers through a maze of arms as Manual wins a 56-64 victory.

Heading the 1955-56 roundball crew is Coach William Reed. Mr. Reed is new at Warren this year and comes from Fishers High School near Noblesville. He discusses game strategy with returning reserve coach Wendell Roberts.

TO WIN, TO LOSE, TO DRAW

Chuck Marshall (34) and Manual's Carl Short (35) do an Indian dance in an effort to get the ball. Dick Meyer (43) tries to use his magical power and charm the ball into Chuck's hands. But the Warriors hex was not enough to win this game. They lost to the Redskins 64-56.

"Come on, let's go!" This sentiment is expressed by the boys on the bench during every game. The hidden talents on the bench are the most avid supporters of the boys on the floor.

It's in! No, it isn't! Bill Darosett (32), Fred Horsely (25), John Prickett (45), along with three Decatur Central players, give rapt attention to the elusive ball. John Cox (44) and Jim Hickman look on.

BUT TO DO IT RIGHT

Chuck Marshall (34) and Larry West (24) temporarily leave the floor to try for a rebound in the Decatur-Warren encounter. Ronnie Mitchell ardently watches his teammates as do the remaining Decatur boys.

Sharon Anderson, senior, flashes a bright smile as Dick Meyer crowns her 1955-56 Basketball Queen prior to the Warren-Franklin Township tilt. Dick, who suffered injuries in the Broad Ripple game, was unable to finish the season.

Don Pierce (31) flings the ball high in the air as one of the Decatur Hawks plays "Statue of Liberty." Larry West (24) and three Decatur players watch to see where the ball goes.

Larry Huffman (33) sophomore, drops in the winning basket to cop the Marion County Reserve Tourney. The Little Warriors won over Southport in the final game by 39-38.

STRONG RESERVE

Members of the Reserve Basketball team are, Top to Bottom: Louis Allen, Bob Chadwell, Fred Brewer, Jim Campbell, Larry Huffman, Bob Kidd, John Stroh, Warren Hollenback, Russel South, Alan Murray, and Jerry Hartman.

"Now, what would you call that?" says Ronnie Mitchell as he views a pile-up in an intramural tussle. The three Ridgerunners scrambling for the ball are Phil Biddle, Larry Minnick and Darrell Jacobs.

This was Mr. William Glesing's first year as intramural basketball sponsor. Since approximately 120 boys take part in this winter sport, the job of sponsor involves many duties to be performed.

RELEASE EXCESS ENERGY

"Where it it?" John Kester, Allan Litz, and Alan Burt eye the basket hoping that two points will swish through.

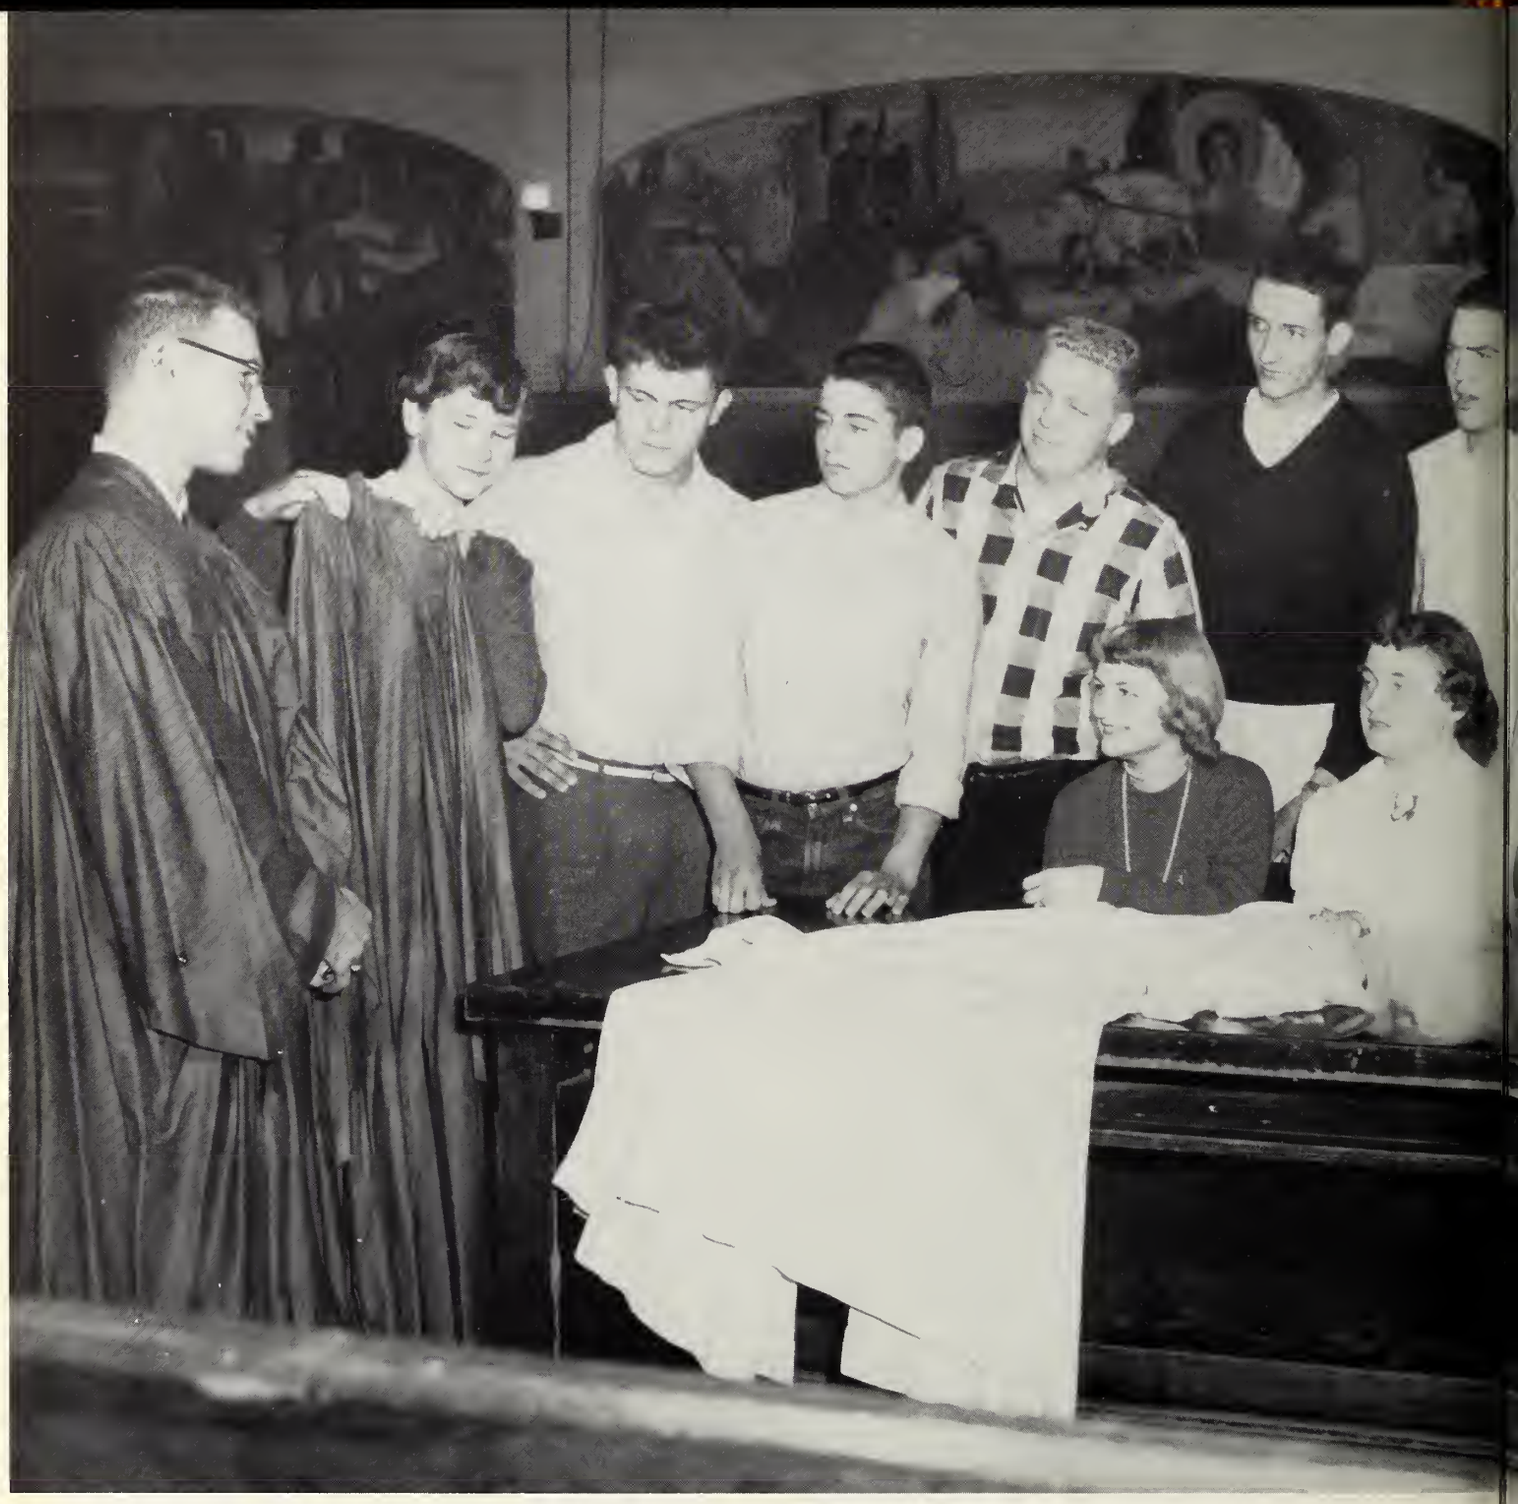
Reigning over the homecoming game with Lawrence Central was Marilyn Limbach. For the first time in Warren's history five senior girls were nominated for queen. The members of the court were Judy Albus, Donna Jo Scotten, Marianne Thompson and Dawn Veteto.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY REIGNS

These five girls were nominated by the basketball team for Basketball Queen. Senior Sharon Anderson (Center) was chosen by the fans to reign as Queen. The members of her court were Jayne Edwards, Marilyn Limbach, Marilyn Pendleton and Janet Williams.

Pleads of "yell louder" were familiar sounds when you neared a varsity Cheerleader. Not only did they spark the team to victory; they created a stronger spirit throughout the school. Without their valuable assistance, the newly organized pep block could not have succeeded so well. Members of the squad are: Doris Dicks, Arlene Hughes, Phil Biddle, Marianne Thompson, and Martha Stroud, captain. Mrs. Rosalind White, physical education teacher, sponsors the yell leaders.

Promoting good sportsmanship, keeping the spectators under control, and leading the crowd in cheering are only some of the duties of the cheerleaders. The reserve yell leaders, elected by the entire student body, are: Lynda Fitch, Marcia Miers, and Stevie Brunke.



Seniors have completed their last year in Our Warren World; this is the year they anticipated. At commencement seniors will receive diplomas which symbolize an advancement to maturity, a conclusion of four years of work and study, and a sudden realization that high school is over. Senior class activities were planned by the Senior Council and accomplished with the support from the entire class. Strong companionship existed among seniors, and it led to successful baccalaureate and commencement exercises which climaxed a year of worthwhile achievements for the . . .

Joy, sorrow, anticipation: these are a few of the emotions experienced by underclassmen during their brief visit to Our Warren World. These students have accomplished many things, yet they have more goals to attain. They have set their goals high, and are striving to achieve them. Graduation may seem far off, but time passes quickly. The ball games, sock-hops, parties, and friendships, along with the work and study, are an important part in this phase of education for they will never be forgotten. Indeed, Our Warren World plays a big part in the lives of the never-ending chain of . . .

Students, books, and classroom discussions partly depict life in Our Warren World . . . but the story is not complete without teachers whose help through regular classes and personal consultation is essential to a well-rounded education. Their effort, patience, and friendliness have a specific place in the memories of all students. A capable faculty working with an efficient administration has achieved much toward making Warren the school it is. In the following pages, we see faces of those who are our guides, our friends, our . . .
